AGED PRINTER DIES

William L. H. Owens, Formerly of This City, Passed Away At Louisville.

Word was received here Sunday announcing the death of William L. H. Owens, formerly of this city, at Louisville, Ky. Mr. Owens was born in Maysville February 13, 1840, and resided here for a number of years and was foreman of the old Maysville Eagle, a predecessor of The Ledger. After leaving Maysville Mr. Owens worked on several of the larger dailies of the country but has been retired for a number of years. Mr. Owens was a writer of ability, several of his writings having appeared in these columns from time to time. The funeral and interment take place at Louisville.

CASEWELL-GAUNCE.

Saturday afternoon County Judge W. H. Rice married Thurman Gaunce, 21, and Miss Susie Casewell, 21, both of Nicholas county.

EARLY MORNING BLAZE.

Monday morning at 2:45 with the mercury standing 6 degrees below zero "Kinney Mac" was called to the McDaniel coal yards, where a defective flue started a blaze. Chief Newell and his boys soon had the fire extinguished with but a small loss.

Mr. Harry Davenport of Springdale, has accepted a position with the Flemingsburg branch of the Central Garage Company of this city and took up his new duties Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohmiller, Mrs. Frank Cady and Mrs. Cora Allen motored to Falmouth and return Sunday.

Mr. C. E. Wilson of Paris, was here Sunday on business.

Block at the Farmers. The market closed for the week as strong as at any time during the season.

Supervisor's Report.

Sales on the Maysville tobacco market for the week amounted to 1,852,635 pounds with an average of $10.61, a little below the previous week, for which we contribute a good quantity of inferior tobacco on the market, which we think helped to lower the average. We could notice no change in the prices on good grades. The fancy crops sold at prices fully as strong as at any time during the season, on crop reaching the high average of $40.65 and one basket bringing $62. With many good crops up in the twenties average. Rejections not heavy. W. MITCHELL, Supervisor.

EDWARD K. GAULT

His Death At Hayswood Hospital Early Sunday Morning of Locked Bowels.

Mr. Edward K. Gault, aged about 71, died early Sunday morning at Hayswood Hospital, in this city, of locked bowels, he having been taken to that institution last week in the hopes of securing relief.

Mr. Gault was born near Murphysville, this county, in 1844, and has resided all his life in that precinct, following farming and at which he was successful.

He served throughout the Civil War as a member of the Sixteenth Kentucky Infantry, receiving an honorable discharge from the service, and soon after coming back he was married to Miss Sallie Ann Rhoads, who passed away last August.

In 1880 he accomplished the remarkable feat of being elected the first Republican jailer Mason county ever had, and served the entire four years, removing to his old home after his term expired.

The funeral occurred Monday morning at 10 o'clock at Shannon church, with interment in the cemetery at that place.

DEATH OF MRS. A. BONA.

Saturday night at 8 o'clock, Mrs. A. Bona of Lexington, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Murray, of East Second street, after a prolonged illness. The deceased is survived by her husband and five children, Mrs. John Murray, Mrs. Eugene Buccanni of Lexington, Mrs. James Dunn of Lexington, Miss Pearl Bona of Cincinnati and Mr. Louis Bona of Lexington. The remains were taken to Lexington Monday morning on the L. & N., where the funeral and interment will take place.

SOME COLD WEATHER.

Monday morning this section experienced some real old-fashioned January weather. Following a snow-fall Sunday of about two inches, the weather man uncoiled the cold wave, and Monday morning the thermometers registered from 1 below in the city to 6 below at Glascock's farm, and 10 below at Orangeburg.

MANDATE FAILS TO APPEAR.

Saturday was the last day for the mandate from the Court of Appeals declaring Maysville and Mason county dry, to make its appearance. The bit of paper failed to show up and as a result there is some talk of the saloons reopening.

Mr. J. N. Peebles left Sunday for Louisville, where he went to bring back his wife, who has been a patient in a sanatorium there for the last four months. Mrs. Peebles' numerous friends here will be gratified to learn that her health has been greatly improved, with promise of being fully restored by the treatment.

Sunday afternoon a train of forty cars passed east over the C. & O. loaded with horses. They will be shipped to the warring nations of Europe. They come from the west. Train No. 2 had an express carload of horses ticketed for Richmond, Va., the same afternoon.

Mrs. L. M. Cavendish left Sunday afternoon for a three weeks' stay with relatives in Huntington. Mr. Cavendish also left on a ten days' business trip to Pittsburg and he accompanied his wife as far as Huntington.

Col. John Wheeler of Frankfort, is visiting his son, Mr. Elmer Wheeler, of West Third street, and his daughter, Mrs. John Roper, of Lexington street, and other relatives in the county.

The river still looks swollen, yellow and angry, but those who are compelled to brave the "breeze" which sweeps Limestone bridge look shriveled, blue and miserable.

Ex-Councilman Frank Hendrickson left Sunday afternoon for Baltimore, where he will enter Johns Hopkins Hospital and undergo a thorough course of treatment.

Mr. Sam W. Porter of West Second street, who has been ill for some time, took a sudden change for the worse this morning and his condition is serious.

Mr. Cyrus Mackenzie of Huntington, W. Va., returned home Sunday after a short visit to his daughter, Mrs. Austin R. Quigley of East Third street.

Violet Caudill, aged 4, and Richard Rucker, aged 3, were so badly burned at their homes near Ashland Saturday that they died in a few hours.

The friends of Mrs. Sally Graham of East Second street, will regret to learn that she was ill with vertigo Saturday.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES

Of Rev. J. S. Sims Held At the First M. E. Church, South, in This City On Saturday.

The remains of Rev. J. S. Sims, who died while on his honeymoon trip to Florida, Wednesday, arrived at Paris Friday evening and were met by a representative of his church there.

On Saturday morning they were taken in charge by Millward Bros., the undertakers of Lexington, and conveyed to this city in that firm's handsome auto hearse, in charge of Mr. John Millward, one of the firm, who looked after all the details of the funeral without a hitch of any kind.

After a brief service at the First M. E. church, South, of which the Rev. Mr. Sims was its beloved pastor for four years, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Will B. Campbell, who spoke feelingly of the splendid work accomplished by the deceased not only in this city but throughout the entire confines of his conference, the remains were conveyed to Maysville's beautiful City of the Dead and laid to rest beside those of his first wife, who was Miss Mary Lovel, daughter of the late R. B. Lovel.

The remains were accompanied to this city by Judge E. B. January, Mr. Henry A. Power, Mrs. R. A. Rudisell, Mrs. H. H. Hancock, Mrs. J. S. Sims, Mr. C. S. Ball, Miss Alfie Ball, Miss Charlena Ball and Rev. W. O. Sadler, all of Paris, the last named being the pastor of the South Methodist church at Paris, and all being entertained at dinner by Mrs. R. B. Lovel.

CHARLES E. LEWIS

News was received here Sunday of the death of Mr. Charles E. Lewis at the home of his brother, Mr. Jonathan Lewis, at Atlee, W. Va., his death occurring Sunday morning.

Mr. Lewis was a resident of East Frost street, Fifth ward, where he was well and favorably known, being of a quiet and kindly disposition that endeared him to all in his neighborhood. He was past 80 years of age.

Mr. Lewis was removed to his brother's home some months ago, where he has been ever since.

The remains will arrive here Tuesday and will be interred in the Maysville cemetery.

THE DECLINE OF THE OLD POSTAL CARD.

Government statistics show that the sale of the plain old fashioned postal cards has greatly fallen off during recent years. The picture post card has of course driven it out of popularity.

Then, too, one questions if the old habit of postal card correspondence has not gone by.

Most of us can remember well maiden aunts and others who were noted for their ability to write long effusions on postal cards. Some of them prided themselves on the number of words that could be legibly written on a postal card. If memory serves aright, this would often run into the two or three hundreds. Fine pointed pens were pushed with a concise motion that is a lost art in these days when public school children are taught to use sweeping and quickly formed strokes.

The cent that the postal card saved was a consideration in the eyes of maiden aunts and others. It was part of a well planned conservation of resources, by which bank books were acquired in days of small economic things. A two-cent letter was a needless waste, in which not merely the stamp, but the cost of paper and envelope was an appreciable consideration.

The publicity of the postal card message of course might be considered a drawback. Still in the hey-day of this form of epistolary communication, it was assumed that if you lived in a small town your neighbors knew your business anyway.

The publicity of the message does not affect the sale of the modern post card. The messages thereon inscribed are so flat and routine that it is doubtful if the rural postmistress ever stops to read them. It must be a tiresome task to wade through a score of cards, only to find such heart throbs as "Here I am at Washington! How are you? Fine weather. Goodby."

DISCIPLINE FOR ACCIDENTS.

Essentially the bad record of American railroads for disasters comes down to a question of discipline.

An American railroad manager once said that the man who had been careless once, and had become thoroughly frightened, is often a better railroad man for the experience, whereas if he was discharged and a new man put on, the latter might have lacked just this experience of disaster to make him careful.

It will strike the general public that that is not a very safe basis for good railroading. Men by temperament fall into one of two classes, the reckless and the cautious. No man who is not temperamentally of a very cautious type is fitted to be a locomotive engineer. Such a man is not apt to have these narrow escapes, for the reason that he does not gamble on chances. If he has not a clear track ahead he runs in such a way that he could stop if need be.

The quicker the American people demand that only that kind of men run trains, the sooner railroading will become as safe as it might be.

THE LOOKERS.

A big problem for the merchants is how to deal with people who walk through their stores in an aimless way looking for goods, but with no definite purpose as to buying.

The story is told of a clerk who was once exasperated by a woman who was looking for baskets. He pulled down all but two on top of a long shelf.

The woman finally turned away in an undecided manner.

"Don't believe I'll take any today. I only came in to look for a friend," she said.

"Madam," replied the clerk, "if you think your friend is in either one of those two baskets up there I will look in them."

Every merchant knows that type of shopper. The best way to deal with them is to describe goods definitely to the public by good advertising. Then they start out with a more positive purpose to buy, they go direct to the man whose notice interested them, and usually they buy without shopping further.

It is no surprise to learn that Senator Stone of Mississippi, chairman of the Senate committee on foreign relations, counselled against the use of harsh language in the notes to Austria. "Gumshoe Bill," as he is known, familiarly if not affectionately, in his home state has never been noted for aggressiveness. In the present instance four of his Democratic colleagues on the committee stand with him in believing that the Wilson policy of harsh words—and nothing else—is a futile and foolish method to be applied to our foreign affairs.

Twice as many bills have thus far been introduced in this Congress as compared with the last. What Democratic Congressman lack in the quality of their legislation they propose to make up in quantity.

Some newspapers have published the recipe from which President Wilson's birthday cake was made. It sounded good. But so far as 1916 is concerned we can say that Wilson's cake is dough.

The State Department explains that Colonel House has gone to Europe to "give a personal touch to the relations between the State Department and its ambassadors." This is the correct language, all right, but it is misapplied. The Colonel will give "a personal touch" to the treasury, which is to pay his expenses.

The American Psychological Association has just held its annual session. It missed a great opportunity in not having President Wilson address the delegates on the condition of the national treasury, which is, of course, purely psychological.

The statement of the census bureau that there are Indians in every state in the Union will cause no surprise in England, where they understand that the warwhoop is still heard in the suburbs of New York.

Those Democrats who talk of "rewarding" Brand Whitlock's services at Brussels by naming him as Wilson's running mate for 1916 have a queer idea of what constitutes a reward.

Five thousand actors are out of employment, but walking the railroad ties is equal to anything as healthy exercise.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Big Price on Tobacco.

(Georgetown News.)

Avie Lee Carlton sold a crop of tobacco Monday of 1,815 pounds and averaging $20.30 the hundred.

Dollar a Minute.

(Falmouth Pendletonian.)

August Morford of Caddo, bought a Holstein cow and calf here Monday from the Caldwell herd for $41. One other cow was sold to J. T. Simon of Cynthiana, for $50. Then Mr. Morford put up the cow and calf he had bought a few minutes before for $41 and received $48.50 for them, making $7.50 in about five minutes.

Good Egg Record.

(Falmouth Outlook.)

Elmer Woodhead of this city, has an egg record that is hard to beat. He has ten hens that laid 1,724 eggs from January 1, 1915, to December 31, 1915. This is an average of 172.4 eggs to the hen, which is fine. The eggs are all nice and large, weighing twenty-nine ounces to the dozen. This record was made with Mr. Woodhead's fine strain of Buff Orpington chickens and he has some young stock that will beat this record.

One-Legged Chicken.

(Allen County Times.)

Mr. Dave More of Trammel, brought to the poultry house a load of chickens Tuesday and among the lot were two that had only one leg each. Mr. More said they weighed just as much as the other chickens of the same age. He was thinking of starting a strain of one-legged chickens, as they were not near so hard to keep out of the garden and barn. He saved the mother of the chickens hoping the next hatch will all be one-legged. If they don't hatch to suit Dave we bet he turns the rats on them again.

Hunger Appeal Heeded.

(Litchfield Gazette.)

Our hunger appeal a week ago brought immediate results. One day, Mrs. Hoover, near town, came in and subscribed for the Gazette and agreed to pay in butter and buttermilk. Esquire R. M. Cannon came forward with three sacks of fine sausage, a ten-pound hunk of headcheese, two gallons of sorghum molasses and a side of spareribs, while our friend, Lefe Lile, has promised to furnish the editor with the necessary cordwood. Now, in the face of all this, we sincerely say, does it pay to advertise?

English As She Is Spoke.

(Hopkinsville New Era.)

Dr. Collins, who has charge of the optical department of Hardwick's store, is a thorough Briton in his vernacular and uses "bloomin'" and "blasted," as much as Col. C. F. Johnson. Only yesterday, wishing a couple of proofs for an advertising cut, he sent to this office for a "pair of pulls, don'tche know." The foreman sent back for more definite instructions. "Oh, to be sure," said Dr. Collins, "I should have said 'two spanks.'" Dr. Collins mentioned one day to George Kolb that he had pedaled over much of England.

"Spectacles?" innocently inquired Mr. Cobb.

"My bike," coldly explained the doctor.

TARIFF ISSUE—AND OTHERS.

Washington, January 17.—The luncheon which the Democratic National Committee enjoyed at the White House was the first hospitality of the kind which the President has ever shown to the organization of his party. Some of the committeemen, recalling this and knowing that a President may summon whomever he may wish to see to come to the White House, were a little surprised to hear Mr. Wilson emphasizing the "isolation" of his life at the executive mansion. And some of them reflected that his life had not been so excessively "isolated" after all.

The President was hardly less happy when he tried to talk slang to his guests. The Democratic National Committee men are by no means finicky, and some of them admit to deficiencies in grammar and diction. But they look for something different in a President, and they can not understand whether the President was trying to get himself down to what he thought to be their level or whether he is trying a new pose with which to follow the affectation of "isolation" which can not be much longer maintained.

However the committeemen were politely responsive to the President's efforts. They relished the food and they tittered decorously when he spoke of getting things "off his chest" and when he said the Republicans are "talking through their hats." They maintained, also, the expected silence when he asked them if the Republicans had any issue except the tariff.

This question betrays a narrowness of political horizon which is incomprehensible here, and is regarded as proof of the care with which Tammany has guarded Mr. Wilson's life from the intrusion of newspaper and other criticism. While Republicans would be vastly content to fight next year's campaign on no other issue than the tariff, they are, in fact, surrounded by an embarrassment of riches when they contemplate the manner in which the fight may be carried on. Mexico, foreign relations in general, the treasury deficit, the extravagance of Congress, the bungling of legislation, the demoralization of the public service, the evasive attitude regarding preparedness, the socialistic shipping bill—these and scores of other errors, failures and disasters will be made a source of attack upon the administration when it seeks an endorsement at the polls.

Mr. Wilson once said that his is "a single-track mind," and he never gave better evidence of it than when he asked this question.

Jefferson De Angelis in "Some Baby" at the Washington Opera House Tonight.

January 17.

Vice Admiral Sir David Beatty, the

Victor in two naval battles in the North Sea during the present war, and the youngest man ever to reach his rank in the British navy, is 45 years old today. When he was in his twenties he fell in love with and married Miss Ethel Field of Chicago, daughter of the late Marshall Field, who left her eight millions. King George and Beatty had been shipmates in their boyhood days. Queen Mary became fond of Lady Beatty and stood godmother to her little son. The royal children and the two Beatty boys are intimate companions. Sir David was born on January 17, 1871 at Hironbeck Lodge, in Cheshire, and comes from an old Irish family. He was thirteen when he entered the naval training school. When he was made a commander at the age of 27, he was advanced over 400 officers with seniority claims. Sir David is popular with his officers and men and is always known as "David." He has been a naval advisor to the army council, was an aide to King Edward, was with Kitchener in the Khartoum expedition, went all through the Boer trouble and was wounded twice and sent home to recover his health. He was made a rear admiral in 1910 and last August was promoted to be a vice admiral.

General Lewis A. Grant of Minneapolis, one of the few surviving Civil war leaders, 87 years old today.

John Ames Mitchell, author and illustrator, 71 years old today.

Attention, Mr. Farmer

C. M. Jones, Manager. R. B. Holton, Asst. Manager.

Many farmers have begun to see the light at "THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE," of Maysville, Ky., which is not in the "COMBINE," and has the largest sales floor in Maysville and second largest in the county. The managers of THE LIBERTY WAREHOUSE promise the farmers nothing more than the best they can do as tobacco warehouse men. We do not claim that which is not ours by right, and have no time to knock other markets, as we are too busy boosting our own sales and the result is that new faces are seen on our sales floor each day and those faces are wearing a smile when their owners leave town.

Mr. A. M. Perry is our auctioneer and the man who helps you get the high dollar.

Let Charlie Jones place a smile upon your face by selling your tobacco with him where every man gets a square deal.

Vinol
CREATES STRENGTH

FOR FEEBLE OLD PEOPLE

Aged War Veteran Finds Health in Vinol

Steuersville, Ohio—"I am 77 years old, and for 35 years have worked on the P. C. & St. L. R. R. Also a Civil War veteran. I suffered from a general nervous breakdown and would have such weak, dizzy spells I would have to go to bed for a day at a time. When visiting friends in Bradford, Ohio, an old doctor recommended that I try Vinol. That very day I bought a bottle and continued to take it regularly. It has done me a world of good, built me up so I feel stronger in every way, and have gone back to work again and I want to recommend Vinol to any old comrade or aged person who needs strength for it is a grand medicine."—W. H. BOWERS, Steuversville, Ohio.

The reason Vinol is so beneficial to old people is because it contains the very elements needed to replace declining strength with renewed vigor, viz.: the medicinal elements of fresh cod livers, without oil, peptonate of iron, beef peptone and a mild tonic wine.

GETTING PREPARED

Four Dreadnaughts To Be Ready Soon
For Active Service—Cost of
New Vessels Sixty Millions.

Washington.—The battleship Nevada, the first of four dreadnaughts to be added to the United States navy during this year, will be put in commission within a few days, and will be commanded by Captain W. S. Sims, who is succeeded as head of the destroyer flotilla by Rear Admiral Glenaves. The four big vessels to be added this year cost about sixty millions of dollars. Besides the Nevada, they are the Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Arizona. The combined tonnage is 110,000. These new fighting machines represent the latest word in American naval construction, although plans already drawn for five other dreadnaughts already authorized call for even greater measurements and fighting power.

The new vessels are to take the place of the present first division as soon as all four are in commission. They mount heavy fourteen-inch guns, ten and twelve to a ship. These guns have a range of about fifteen miles. Large secondary batteries and smaller guns with four torpedo tubes each, complete the offensive equipment of each of the 1916 warships.

It is expected that the Oklahoma will be completed to join the fleet in the spring and will be commanded by Captain Roger Welles. The Pennsylvania, which will be the flagship of the fleet, is to be completed in mid-summer. Five months later, the naval officials expect, the Arizona will be the fleet.

The addition of these vessels will cause the Texas and New York to be moved back from the first to the second division, as also will be the case with the Wyoming and the Arkansas, although there may be added a fifth unit, making five instead of four new dreadnaughts.

HEARING ON ST. PAUL BASEBALL SUIT.

St. Paul, Minn., January 17.—The hearing in the St. Paul baseball suit brought by Mrs. Minnie Lennon against John Norton and Herman Benz, whom she seeks to restrain from exercising an option on the club's property and players, will be held today.

For Mental and Physical Efficiency

there must be efficiency in digestion—but first, and more important, the food must possess sound nourishment.

In this respect no food supplies in more splendid proportion, all the nutritive elements of the field grains and is at the same time so fully processed for easy quick digestion as

Grape-Nuts

This famous pure food, made of whole wheat and malted barley, retains the vital mineral salts of the grains—so lacking in many foods—but all-important in building brain, nerve and muscle.

There's a wonderful return of mental and physical vigor for the small tax upon the stomach in the digestion of Grape-Nuts.

"SOME BABY"

Big New York Production At the Washington Theater Tonight
With Jefferson De Angelis
As Head Funmaker.

Every little farce-play has a laugh germ all its own. One time it is twin beds; another, a pullman car; and again a man masquerading as an old maid.

It would seem that the possibilities for fun with infants had all been exhausted with "Baby Mine," but "Some Baby," an early product of the present season in New York, showing a new slant on infantile humor and complications that compel mirth by their very absurdities.

This play with the seasoned comic opera comedian, Jefferson De Angelis, in the stellar role, shows at the Washington Theater tonight.

The title of this farce illustrates the short-cuts to expression that are current in present day language. One no longer voices his delight or praise in a sentence that would meet with the approval of the "high brow." He merely uses "some" with the accent strong on that word, and ends with the name of whatever may be the object of his laudation. It isn't language; it is slang. And, adopting the method, one may safely say that "Some Baby" is "some" farce.

It got through the teething stage in New York at the Fulton Theater and has taken the road to rear the child. And, while the Gerry Society will never disturb this baby for acting after hours, the baby itself will disturb the dignity of many a listener. That is what it was written for.

Jefferson De Angelis fits nicely into the play, and as "Dr. Smythe" gives his usual consistent funny performance. His long years of service in comic opera make it easy for him to build up his role so that he gets out of it every ounce of fun possible. His scientist, when he is not at the center of wild doings, is a well-wrought character and a departure for this hero of many a comic opera.

"Some Baby" should be seen to be appreciated.

LORIMER ON TRIAL

For Bank Wrecking—Former United States Senator Faces Term In Penitentiary If Found Guilty.

Chicago, January 17.—William Lorimer, former United States Senator, who was ousted by his colleagues in one of the political sensations of a few years ago, today faces another string of charges brought against him in connection with the collapse of his banking syndicate in this city in 1914. Lorimer has engaged able attorneys to fight the charges and it is expected that the defense will bring out charges that the downfall of the Lorimer banks was due to his political enemies.

Despite the fact that his partner, Charles B. Munday, has already been convicted of similar charges to those brought against him, Lorimer is hopeful of acquittal. He is prepared for a grand battle that will rival the political battle that drove him from the Senate.

Lorimer is charged with conspiracy, embezzlement and larceny. The report of the grand jury which investigated the Lorimer banks for three months, declared that Lorimer, Munday and a dozen other bank officials had looted the institutions of two millions of dollars; that forgery, thievery and embezzlement had been committed, involving nine banks and one other concern.

The Lorimer bank crash created a sensation in 1914. The combined capital of the banks which closed June 12 of that year was $1,600,000, and the deposits were in excess of $6,000,000. Thousands of depositors, many of them small merchants who had been political friends of Lorimer, saw their bank accounts swept away.

ILLINOIS STATE OFFICIALS FIGHT GRAFT CHARGES.

Springfield, Ill., January 17.—A hearing will be given in the Circuit Court today on the three demurrers filed by State Treasurer Andrew Russell and State Treasurer James J. Brady, in answer to the graft charges brought against them by J. B. Fergus, a Chicago taxpayer. The state officials are charged with "knowingly and wilfully" permitting irregular payments amounting to thousands of dollars to be made from state legislative committee expense funds.

NARROW ESCAPE

Three Lewis County Boys Come Very Near Getting Drowned By Breaking Through Ice.

(Vanceburg Sun.)

While a crowd of boys were skating on the ice on the backwater near the Dry Run Ridge, Sunday afternoon the ice broke through with Leslie Boyd and "Bire" Heath and they immediately disappeared. Sock Cole and Elwood Heath being on the bank near as the accident and immediately rushed to their rescue. Elwood Heath had almost reached them when the ice broke with him and he was in the same predicament.

With great presence of mind Sock Cole secured a limb off of a tree near by and laying flat down scooted himself over the ice to where he was able to push the limb of the tree where they could reach it and by the aid of it were able to drag themselves out onto the ice almost exhausted.

As soon as the accident occurred some of the boys who were near rushed to town crying that the boys were drowned and great excitement prevailed and great crowds of people left for the scene of the accident, but soon learned that such was not the case.

This accident should prove a warning to the boys to stay off of the ice, but what boy ever took warning.

CHESAPEAKE & OHIO

Files Appeal From Kanawha County
(W. Va.) Circuit Court In Court of Appeals—"Booze Baggage" Point In Suit.

Appeal from the Circuit Court of Kanawha county, West Virginia, was submitted at Charleston at the first session of the Supreme Court of Appeals by the C. & O. railroad which seeks action of the higher court to determine if it may be permanently prohibited by injunction from allowing passengers to travel on its trains who have as personal baggage intoxicating liquors labeled as the laws of West Virginia require. Injunction awarded by the lower court compels the railroad company to confiscate labeled intoxicants carried by all passengers unless the passengers will themselves remove the questionable baggage from trains at the first way station at which the train stops.

The court refused the appeal asked for by the company from an injunction of the Circuit Court of Kanawha county, which prohibits the railroad company from permitting passengers to carry labeled intoxicants as personal baggage. Counsel for the railroad company does not believe any further action will be taken by the C. & O. or any other railroad companies in that court.

The Red river of the North, which has long been the division line between wet territory in Minnesota and dry in Dakota, is gradually losing that distinction as one after another the counties of the former state votes out the saloon under local option. Moorehead, Minn., opposite Fargo, N. D., closed its emporiums some months ago and now East Grand Forks, across the River from Grand Forks, N. D., has taken similar action.

GIRL COULD NOT WORK

How She Was Relieved from Pain by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Taunton, Mass.—"I had pains in both sides and when my periods came I had to stay at home from work and suffer a long time. One day a woman came to our house and asked my mother why I was suffering. Mother told her that I suffered every month and she said, 'Why don't you buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' My mother bought it and the next month I was so well that I worked all the month without staying at home a day. I am in good health now and have told lots of girls about it."—Miss CLARICE MORIN, 22 Russell Street, Taunton, Mass.

Thousands of girls suffer in silence every month rather than consult a physician. If girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a safe and pure remedy made from roots and herbs, much suffering might be avoided.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. (confidential) for free advice which will prove helpful.

GEO. H. FRANK & CO.
Maysville's Foremost Clothiers

Society

The gracious hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Barbour Russell, so often enjoyed by Maysville society, never found happier expression than on Saturday evening when it voiced a welcome to their many friends at the wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Ball, Jr.

Mrs. Ball is the sister of Mrs. Russell, with whom she has made her home for several years. During her residence here Mrs. Ball by her graciousness and charm has cemented countless friendships in the city of her adoption.

Mr. Ball is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Ball of this city. He is connected with the State National Bank, and his efficiency and courtesy have won him an enviable position among the young business men of Maysville.

Since the engagement of Miss Sue Wadsworth Armstrong and Mr. William Winslow Ball, Jr., was announced, much interest centered in the popular young couple, culminating in the outpouring of friends to extend congratulations and good wishes Saturday evening.

The wedding ceremony immediately preceded the reception and was attended only by close relatives and friends.

The picturesque stairway of the handsome Russell home made an admirable setting for the lovely bride as she descended with her brother, Mr. Hord Armstrong. Her lustrous radium satin gown, one of the handsomest ever worn by a Maysville bride, reflected shimmering light through its exquisite lace trimming, and through the misty folds of the lace encircled veil which encircled the graceful wearer. A superb bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley carried by the bride completed the artistic ensemble of her costume.

In the drawing room before an altar banked with lilies, roses and ferns, beneath a canopy of smilax and roses, Mr. Ball, accompanied by his brother, Mr. Edward Ball, awaited his bride. The Methodist Episcopal marriage service was most impressively read by Rev. William Campbell, of whose congregation Mrs. Ball is a devout member and zealous worker.

In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Jr., were Mr. and Mrs. Ball, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Hord Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Reed. Mrs. Russell looked very handsome in an exquisite costume of lavender tulle. Mrs. Ball was most becomingly gowned in black lace over ivory satin. Mrs. Armstrong wore a striking costume of azure chiffon and Mrs. Reed an imported gown of white Chantilly lace.

The peregrinating hostesses were Mesdames Joseph Perrie, Meredith Gary, Pearce Browning, George Ballou, Elmer Downing, George Owens and Miss Ellen Shanklin, all handsomely gowned and by their graciousness and cordiality adding much to the evening's pleasure.

Mrs. John Burwell was the accomplished pianist who before and during the ceremony rendered with exquisite phrasing appropriate selections from Mendelssohn, Wagner and Schuman. Later in the evening a harpist gave a program of exceptional charm while a delicious collation was being served.

The decorations were unusually beautiful and elaborate. Throughout the house they formed a white-and-green unit of lilies, roses, smilax, fern and tulle, silhouetted in strong relief against tinted walls, mahogany furniture and linen covered floors.

If the popularity of a young couple can be measured by the wedding gifts they receive, then the generous checks presented and the room full of silver, cutglass, china, mahogany, rare lace and handsome linen, mark Mr. and Mrs. Ball as prodigally blessed with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball will spend several weeks in the East and on their return immediately begin housekeeping in the Picklin apartment which has been beautifully furnished in complete readiness for them.

May their new life, begun with every benediction, realize in love and loyalty, in sympathy and understanding, a happiness so great, the world offers no gauge by which to measure it, for heaven alone is its boundary.

Mrs. John Chenoweth Everett, in fact Third street, entertained from 2 to 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon with a bridge party of nine tables.

After chatting with Mrs. Everett, who received alone, for a short time, the guests were served with a grapefruit half shell filled with minced grapefruit, Maraschino cherries and rum, chicken salad, Saratoga chips, escalloped oysters, French peas a la King, hot biscuit, punch and coffee.

The guests gathered about a lace covered table, decorated with pink and white sweet peas and narcissus, in the center of which was a large crystal bowl of candies, with individual baskets to match at each plate and bon bon platters of stuffed dates.

The guests were Mrs. Carrie Russell, Mrs. Edwin Matthews, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Clarence Mathews, Mrs. John Hall, Mrs. William H. Hall, Mrs. Gary, Mrs. Josephine Perrie, Mrs. Lucien Maltby, Mrs. A. O. Taylor, Mrs. Robert Owens, Mrs. C. E. Giesel, Mrs. John B. Chenault, Mrs. Pickett, Mrs. Mattie Barbour, Mrs. Groppenbacher, Mrs. W. W. Robb, Mrs. Albert Shanklin, Mrs. P. P. Parker, Mrs. W. H. Cox, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. John Harbeson, Mrs. Thomas Keith, Mrs. Frank, Miss Lydia Richeson, Miss Sallie Burgess, Mrs. Dr. Howard, Mrs. Elmer Downing, Miss McDougal, Mrs. Frank Pierce, Mrs. Stanley Watson of Lexington, Mrs. Louis McCarthy, Mrs. Elsie Clift, Mrs. William Cochran, Mrs. Horace Cochran, Mrs. Sudduth Calhoun, Mrs. P. G. Smoot and Mrs. James Ross.

The prizes were a cutglass tea bell, won by Mrs. Maguire, a pitcher, awarded to Mrs. Gary, while Miss McDougal was invested by a book.

The following announcements have been received in this city:

"Mrs. George D. Bradford announces the marriage of her daughter Mildred Mae, to Mr. Robert Nelson Hoeflich, on Saturday, the first of January, 1916, Waverly, Illinois.

"Will be home after the fifteenth of January, Maysville, Ky."

SMALLPOX

Follows the Visit of a Relative in Family of a Resident of Adams County.

[Adams County (O.) Record.]

The family of "Dock" Grooms, living on Poplar Ridge, three miles southwest of town, are reported as suffering with smallpox in a mild form. Those affected with the disease are "Dock," his wife, mother and nephew.

A brother from Arkansas, who visited the family about December 1, suffered a light attack, not knowing the nature of his ailment and left for home before his complete recovery. Two cases are reported in the vicinity of Manchester originating from the same source.

After Mr. Groom's family had been afflicted for nearly a week, Dr. S. J. Ellison of West Union, was called, who at once diagnosed the cases as smallpox and all necessary precautions were taken to prevent its spreading. The cases are all reported as doing well.

QUIT VOTING

Or Pay Your Polltax If the Bill Now Pending in the Legislature Becomes a Law.

Representative W. J. Murray of Hickman county, has introduced a bill in the Legislature that will be the means of accomplishing one of two things: either pay your polltax or quit voting.

The bill, if it becomes a law, requires a polltax receipt as an additional qualification for the right of suffrage in Kentucky.

MAY APPEAL HAMILTON CASE.

It is said that the relatives of Paris Hamilton, who was sentenced to a term of from two to twenty-one years in the state penitentiary Friday at Brooksville for the murder of Marshal Showalter last June, will be appealed. Public sentiment in Bracken county, it is said, is for young Hamilton, and rumors are to the effect he would be acquitted at a new trial.

COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

John Savage and son Emory and Newton Jones were arrested at Portsmouth and Ironton Friday, charged with counterfeiting, the Savages having passed a number of spurious gold coins. Their outfit was found on a shanty boat at Portsmouth.

Are You Suffering From Eye Strain?

Your eyes neglected now may bring serious trouble, painful and expensive, later in life. If you're troubled with eye strain, with all its painful symptoms, why continue to suffer when you can not only obtain relief by wearing glasses as we fit them, but preserve and protect your vision? We will examine your eyes and give glasses only if glasses will benefit you. Broken lenses duplicated.
